

TIPS TO HELP YOU

Search for Addiction Doctors

Thousands of medical doctors in the United States are board-certified in addiction medicine or addiction psychiatry. We'll show you two directories of these specialists. We recommend searching both of them to make a list of providers in your area.

Search for addiction medicine doctors

Go to American Board of Addiction Medicine (ABAM)

<https://www.abam.net/find-a-doctor/>

Step 1: Start with the Search Form

1. Enter your Zip Code.
2. Click Find Within to select the distance you are willing to travel.
3. If your insurance is limited to in-state providers, click Select a State and choose yours. Otherwise leave this section blank to get doctors in all states within your search range.
4. Click the Find arrow.

If “no results,” select greater distances.

Step 2: Check for quality— current certification

1. On the “Search Results” page,” check for Current Certification Status look for: Certified

If not, move to the next one.

The screenshot shows the ABAM website interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links for 'Contact Us', 'ABAM Foundation', 'Exam Results', and 'Sitemap'. Below that is the ABAM logo and the text 'American Board of Addiction Medicine'. A search bar contains 'Find a Doctor' and 'Site Search'. A secondary navigation bar includes 'About', 'MOC', 'MOC Web Portal', 'Forms', and 'Publications of Interest'. The main content area is divided into a search form on the left and search results on the right. The search form has fields for 'First Name', 'Last Name', 'City', '[Select a State]', '20815', '[Find Within]', and 'Certification #'. The search results section is titled 'Search Results' and shows 'Showing results 1 - 6 of 6'. The first result is for 'Chevy Chase, MD 20815' with a certification number of 'XXXXXXX' and a current certification status of 'Certified', which is circled in red. A 'View Info' button is next to the result.

Step 3: Find contact information

1. Once you've selected one or more doctors, use your preferred search engine, such as Google or Bing, to look up contact information (address and phone) for each.
2. Add the names and phone numbers to your Treatment Options Chart.

Tips to Help You Search for Addiction Doctors

Search for addiction psychiatrists

Go to American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology (ABPN)

<https://application.abpn.com/verifycert/verifyCert.asp?a=4>

Step 1: Start with the Search Form

1. Select Addiction Psychiatry under Select an area of Specialty and select your State.
Leave the City blank to find more results, unless you live in a large city.

Step 2: Check for quality—certification

1. Check for Certification Status (on the right for each entry), look for: Certified

Notes: You can sort the results by certification status by clicking the up arrow after the Status heading. You can also sort by city by clicking the up arrow after the City heading.

If after following these tips you can't find addiction doctors nearby, learn about other options for finding qualified doctors (<https://AlcoholTreatment.niaaa.nih.gov/FAQs-searching-alcohol-treatment>).

Be sure to search for the other two options--that is, accredited treatment programs and addiction therapists, if you haven't done so already (<https://AlcoholTreatment.niaaa.nih.gov/how-to-find-alcohol-treatment/how-to-search-what-to-ask>).

NIAAA cannot endorse any treatment providers nor be responsible for the options ultimately chosen. The NIAAA Alcohol Treatment NavigatorSM cannot ensure that the search process will deliver higher-quality treatment providers in your vicinity who are using evidence-based approaches. In addition, the search tools on the Navigator may not capture every possible higher-quality treatment provider in your vicinity. For any provider you are considering, be sure to check for the five signs of higher-quality care and ask the 10 recommended questions. (<https://AlcoholTreatment.niaaa.nih.gov/quality-treatment>)
